TEATRO DE LA LUNA receives technology grant from The Greater Washington Community Foundation

Teatro de la Luna is delighted to announce a grant from The Greater Washington Community Foundation that enables the nonprofit theater organization to move more of its performing arts productions, theater-training programs, and children’s workshops online. The funding will ensure that La Luna remains vibrant as the COVID-19 pandemic continues to challenge arts organizations throughout the DC region.

Thanks to the foundation, La Luna will have professional cameras and other tech equipment it needs to provide high quality programming over the internet. The Greater Washington Community Foundation grant also provides funding for tech training to ensure the online offerings are seamless and high quality.

Beginning in January, La Luna is launching a series of online workshops for all ages. Adults and teens will have access to poetry-study workshops and acting and playreading workshops. There will also be Saturday morning bilingual theater workshops—with music, poetry, pantomime, clowning and theater—for children. For details, visit www.teatrodelaluna.org.
